9437
43x
12

Genealogy of the

William Tyler Family

PROVO, UTAH

Do Not
Circulate

T971b

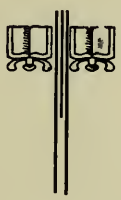
William Tyler Genealogy

THE DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM TYLER, OF SALEM, NEW JERSEY, 1625(?)-1701

BY

WILLARD I. TYLER BRIGHAM

1859-1904



Published for

DAVID ALLEN THOMPSON

by

The Brandow Printing Company

Albany, N. Y.

1912

THE LIBRARY
BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UTAH

Introduction

The Tyler family had representatives in nearly every one of the original thirteen states and there are many independent lines in this country.

One of these having the largest number of living descendants is that of Job Tyler of Andover, Mass. 1619-1700. The genealogy of this family has recently been published by Cornelius B. and Rollin U. Tyler, Esqrs. in two large volumes.

Near Salem, N. J., on Alloway's Creek, about 1688, William Tyler, Quaker, from Greinton, Somerset County, England, settled.

His descendants are known as "The Salem N. J. Line."

These Tyler families are under great obligations to Willard I. Tyler Brigham, Esq. of Chicago, Ill., for the care, labor and correctness with which these various families of Tyler have been set down in order and preserved.

It was very sad that he did not live to see this work in which he was deeply interested put into permanent form. A sketch of his useful career is given in the Job Tyler volume pp. 773-776.

Owing to the failure of the publisher, who first engaged to publish his work, its publication was delayed some years after Mr. Brigham's death.

The publishers of these books give full credit to the author of these family histories for his labors.

Our only connection is the small contribution gladly made in publishing the same and preserving valuable historical or genealogical matters collected by another with care, accuracy and no small expense.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17th, 1912.

David Allen Thompson.

Descendants of William Tyler, the Immigrant

FIRST GENERATION

William Tyler, the immigrant, born at Greinton, Somerset County, England, about 1625, was probably the son of William Tyler, Sr., who died at the former place and was there interred in the year 1635. The will of William Tyler, Sr. bears date the 10th day of March, 1635, in which he directs his interment to be made at Greinton, to whose parish church he leaves legacies, and names his wife, Mary executrix.

In this will he mentions his children, JOHN, PHILIP, JOANE and WILLIAM; also a brother, Philip Tyler of Walton. He bequeathes his son, William, "three score pounds to be paid upon his reaching the age of ffefteane years." This son William, I believe to have been the very man who settled near Salem, New Jersey, about 1688, shortly before Penn's arrival. It is evident that the son William must have been born after 1620 and at the time of his marriage to Johanna or Joane Parsons of Middlezoy, Somerset, February 15, 1677, he would have been in the neighborhood of fifty years. So late marriages are exceptional, but as we all know not infrequent. He may have had an earlier childless marriage. I happen to recollect, moreover, that the New Jersey Tyler line has been given to celibacy and late marriages, which has lessened the number of the descendants in that line.

The names of the children of the two William Tylers agree. William Tyler, Sr., of Greinton names JOHN, PHILIP, JOANE and WILLIAM in this order in his will, and his wife's name "Mary." William Tyler, the immigrant, in his will proven at Salem, N. J., June 20, 1701, names Mary, WILLIAM, JOHN, JOANE, Katherine, PHILIP, Elizabeth and Rebecca.

Now, assuming that William of New Jersey was the son of William of Greinton, we notice that he had named his eldest born after his mother, Mary; his eldest son William after himself and his father; his second son John after his eldest brother; his second daughter Joane after both his sister and his wife, formerly Joane Parsons, and the youngest son Philip after his second oldest brother.

Joane, the wife of William Tyler, died soon after coming to America. She was probably the sister of Jonathan Parsons, of Philadelphia, as there are two old letters from him dated Philadelphia, 6 month 28, 1686 and 1699, addressed to William Tyler, in which he calls him "brother."

William Tyler, after settling in New Jersey, married a second wife, Elizabeth ———. He was a farmer and tanner, and bought a large tract of land of John Champneys on the north side of Monmouth River, now Alloways Creek, being part of two thousand acres conveyed in 1676 by John Fenwick to James Champneys and Priscilla Fenwick Champneys, his wife.

William Tyler, upon coming to America, brought a certificate dated Walton, Sept. 11, 1685 (see below), certifying to his reputation by members of the Friend's Meeting. My theory is that this was because Walton was the place where Quaker meetings were held. This was shortly after the birth of the sect, and their meetings were held secretly, not without danger and penalty. Besses' "Sufferings of Quakers," states that "in 1673 the widow of Philip Tyler of Walton was fined for being present at her husband's burial and suffered distress of property and about thirty-two other persons were fined for attending the same funeral and had goods taken from them to the value of more than eighty-two pounds. Justice Francis Pawlett, when no others would buy the cattle, sent men to buy them for himself."

I believe this widow of Philip Tyler of Walton was the aunt of the immigrant, William Tyler of New Jersey.

Before this William Tyler of Street and Abraham Grundy, on January 17, 1660, were carried to Ilchester Jail for tithes.

I believe this William Tyler to be the very New Jersey immigrant and this Abraham Grundy is surely the very man who acted as agent in England for William Tyler of New Jersey after his departure, of which services we have undoubted record.

In a letter dated October, 1688, it appears that Abraham Grundy was left in charge of Tyler's estate in England and on October 5, 1702, William Tyler, Jr., of New Jersey writes Grundy's executors for twenty pounds, being probably the remainder due from his stewardship.

The villages of Street, Walton and Greinton lie near together upon a direct road. The ancient name of the parish was Street cum Walton. In the old church yard, which I visited during the summer of 1900, I had the rare luck to find standing (being one of a very few and the oldest legible), the gravestone of William Tyler, Sr., the ancient testator. It was a little slate stone in the northwest corner of the churchyard, much eroded, covered with moss and bearing this inscription: "Here lieth the body of William Tyler, deceased, March 9, 1635." You will notice that the will is dated after his death as given on the headstone. (Much of the above matter is taken from the historical writings of this author made at the Fifth American Tyler Family Reunion, held at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Wednesday, September 12, 1900.)

The inventory of William Tyler's goods and chattels was made by Rudoc Morris, Joseph Parsons and John Parsons, the 25th of second month, 1701, who were appointed appraisers. The amount of the personal estate was 519 pounds, 9 shillings, 2 pence. The record of this inventory was made June 20, 1701, in Salem, New Jersey, by Samuel Hedge, third recorder. The will names two sons, William and John Tyler, as executors, and was proven at Salem, June 20, 1701. (For will and certificate from the meeting at Walton see below).

As executor of his father's estate William Tyler, Jr., received through Elias Osborne of England, agent of his uncle Thomas

Parsons of Philadelphia, quit sum from England. William Tyler, Sr., gave twenty pounds, in 1693, the third in amount, on a voluntary subscription for a new brick meeting house in Salem. Tradition assigns him a settlement at Hancock's Bridge or below there in the neck. His old house is still standing, built of bricks brought from England about 1690.

CERTIFICATE

WHEREAS, WILLIAM TYLER, of WALTON, in the county of SOMERSET, YEOMAN, intends to transport himself and family into the province of Pennsylvania in America, if the Lord will, and has desired a certificate on his behalf.

We, therefore, whose names are subscribed, do hereby certify, that the said WILLIAM TYLER hath professed the truth for several years past, and that we do not know but that his conversation hath been answerable to his profession, and that we do know that he hath been ready and willing to contribute to the service of truth as opportunity hath offered and occasion required; and that as to his dealings with the world, he has been punctual and of good report, as far as any of us know or heard; and we know nothing of debts or other entanglements on his part, but that he may, with clearness, prosecute his intended voyage.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our hands.

Dated the eleventh day of seventh month, called September, in the year 1685. As near as can be deciphered, the names are thus:

Edward Chaysles	Thomas Howell
William Lidden	Jas. Batt
John M. Rider	John Gundry
Marmaduke Coate	Thomas Martin
Thomas Comb	John Kingsley
John Brite	John Gribham
Rufus Corum	John Chassell

"In the name of God, Amen. The 28th. of February, 1700, in the 12th. year of his majesty's reign of our most gracious sovereign Lord, King William the Third of England.

"I, WILLIAM TYLER, of ALLOWAYS CREEK, on MONMOUTH RIVER, in the county of SALEM, in WEST NEW JERSEY, in AMERICA, YEOMAN, being sick and weak in body, but of sound and perfect memory (thanks be to Almighty God for the same), and calling to minds the uncertain state of this transitory life, and that we all must yield unto death, when it shall please God to call, and being desirous to settle things in order,—do make this, my last will and testament;

Wherein, is contained my last will and testament in manner and form following; revoking and absolutely annulling by these presents, all and every testament and testaments, will and wills, heretofore, by me made and declared, either by word or writing, notwithstanding any promise to the contrary, or clause derogatory in the same; and this to be taken only for my last will and testament:

First, I bequeath my soul to Almighty God, my Maker, and to Jesus Christ, my Redeemer, and to the Holy Ghost, my sanctifier; and my body to the earth whence it came, to be buried in such decent and christian manner as to my executors shall be thought meet and convenient; there to rest until my soul and body shall meet again and be joined together at the joyful resurrection, and be made partaker of the never ending joys of immortality, which God in mercy, through the merits of Jesus Christ, His Son, hath promised and prepared for all those that sincerely repent and believe in Him.

And as to such of my temporal estate of goods and chattels and debts, as the Lord hath been pleased, far above, my deserts, to bestow upon me, I give and bequeath and dispose the same in manner and form following:

I give and bequeath to my youngest son, Philip Tyler, 53 acres, lying upon Alloways Creek, joining to Richard Johnson's land of the one side and Anthony Page on the other. I also give and bequeath to my son, Philip, one hundred and forty acres of land lying upon Stow Creek, being part of a tract of 1,000 acres bought by me; but if my son John Tyler, buys him one hundred acres of land, lying near to the afore mentioned, then this said land I give to my son John last mentioned, his heirs or assigns.

I give to my son, John Tyler, eight hundred and sixty acres of land joining to John Remington late Nathaniel Champions of Alloways Creek, with all the houses, orchards, fields and fences, appurtenances and improvements whatsoever belonging to this said tract of land, to him, his heirs or assigns forever.

I give and bequeath to my son John Tyler, one hundred and fifty and nine acres of land joining Richard Hancock on the one hand and to John Remington on the other.

And I give and bequeath to my son William Tyler, by estimation, four hundred acres of land lying upon Alloways Creek, the plantation whereon I now dwell; with orchards, houses, field, fences, implements and appurtenances whatsoever belonging to the said tract of land, to him, his heirs or assigns forever.

And my will is that my two sons, William Tyler and John Tyler shall tan all the leather at my plantation where I now dwell, that is now in water, and likewise dry it out, fit for sale; and for their labor, I give and bequeath to them, all the dry hides, untanned. But in case it should happen my son William Tyler or John Tyler, either of them, should die without heirs, the surviving brother shall inherit his share of land before mentioned, and if both of them happen to die without heirs, then it shall be equally divided amongst my four daughters—Joan Tyler, Catharine Tyler, Elizabeth Tyler, and Rebecca Tyler, or as many of them as shall be living.

I order my son Philip, till he be at the age of eighteen years, that he dwell with my son William and work for his maintainance during the said term; and that my son William Tyler do accommodate him with meat, drink, washing and lodging; and clothes suitable in such a case. Also, my will is that my two daughters, Elizabeth and Rebecca Tyler, dwell with my son William Tyler, until they be at the age of sixteen years, or marriageable; and he shall have for each of them, for their abode with him, four pounds sterling out of the interest of their portion. That parcel of land which lieth in England, in the Parish of Middlezoy, and county of Somerset, I give and bequeath to my two sons, William Tyler and John Tyler, to sell and dispose at their will.

As to my sixty and five pounds, which I gave to my daughter, Mary Nicholson, that it return to my two sons, William & John Tyler according to the terms of the bond.

All the monies, goods and chattels that I have here, and also in England, or elsewhere, I give and bequeath to be equally divided between my four daughters, as money upon bonds or mortgages whichsoever, and all my moveable estate.; That is, between Joan Tyler, and Catharine Tyler, Elizabeth Tyler and Rebecca Tyler, excepting what is before mentioned.

I give and bequeath to my daughter, Mary Nicholson, the sum of ten shillings, to be paid one year after my decease, to be paid by my said executors hereafter mentioned. I give to my son-in-law, Abel Nicholson, ten shillings of like money etc.

And lastly I do nominate, ordain and appoint my two sons, William Tyler and John Tyler, executors of this my last will and testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year first above written.

WILLIAM TYLER [L. S.]

William Hall
John Firth

"Proved before Jonathan Bear and Wm. Hall.

"Recorded the 20th. day of June A. D. 1701 in the county of Salem, N. J. "Per me, SAM'L HEDGE, Recorder."

An old inventory exists of this Wm. Tyler which amounted to the sum of £519-9-2. The appraisement was made by Rudoc Morris, Thomas and Jonathan Parsons.

FIRST GENERATION

The children by the first marriage were born in England, and those of the second marriage were born in New Jersey.

Children, by First Marriage:

2. Mary Tyler, born 6 November, 1677.
3. Edith Tyler, born 24 May, died 7 June, 1679.
4. William Tyler, born 5 July, 1680.
5. John Tyler, born 2 May, 1682.
6. Johanna Tyler, born 4 February, 1684.

Children, by Second Marriage:

7. Katharine Tyler, born 13 June, 1690; probably died young, as there is no further record.
8. Philip Tyler, born 17 March, 1692.
9. Elizabeth Tyler, born 24 July, 1695; probably married Thomas Hill, who in an old order signed himself "William Tyler's brother."
10. Rebecca Tyler, born 19 February, 1698; married William Murdock. The Murdocks married into the Whitall family, as they have recorded in a Tyler family Bible. No record of family. A receipt is extant signed by Rebecca Murdock and her husband (date obliterated), acknowledging payment of £50 from her father's estate made by her brother, William Tyler as Executor, being in full of her legacy.

John Bullock of Walton, under date of 6 mo., 25th, 1687, in an extant letter, writes that the above dates of birth were copied from the Register.

2. Mary[2] Tyler (William[1]), born in Walton, Somersetshire, England, 6 November, 1677; married, about 1694, Abel Nicholson, born 2 May, 1672, son of Samuel and Ann Nicholson. Samuel was a husbandman coming from Wiseton, Nottinghamshire, England, to Salem, N. J., with Fenwick, 5 October, 1675. Samuel bought two thousand acres before leaving home; was the first Justice of the Peace of the Fenwick Colony. Samuel's widow died in 1693, and Abel shared in her estate; also in the large landed estate of his brother, Samuel, Jr. Mary Tyler came to America in her girlhood, with her parents.

Children:

11. Sarah Nicholson, born 19 November, 1694.
12. Rachel Nicholson, born 7 July, 1698.
13. Abel Nicholson, born 13 January, 1700.
14. Joseph Nicholson, born 4 December, 1701.
15. William Tyler Nicholson, born 15 September, 1703; bought five hundred acres of land at Hedgefield in Mannington, and built a brick house, which is still standing; three children (William, Rachel and Ruth), all of whom left descendants.
16. Ann Nicholson, born 15 November, 1707; married John Brick, Jr., of Jerico, Cumberland County, who was judge of the Salem courts for several years; eight children.
17. Ruth Nicholson, born 9 September, 1713.
18. Samuel Nicholson, born December, 1716; married Sarah Dennis of Cohansey; two children, who left descendants.
19. (Hon.) John Nicholson, born 3 June, 1719; married Jane Darkin, daughter of John Darkin. Nicholson owned a large farm adjoining the Tylers, on the north side of Alloways Creek; his male line died out in the next generation.

4. William[2] Tyler (William[1]), born in Walton, Somersetshire, England, 5 July, 1680; died 1733, aged 53; married Mary Abbott, sister of George Abbott, the emigrant (who came from England to Connecticut in 1690; to New Jersey about 1696). She survived her husband and married (2), Robert Townsend, of Cape May, N. J., 1735, by whom she had a daughter "Rany" (probably Lorania), who married a Stiles. After the death of her second husband, she lived with her Tyler children. William Tyler came to America with his parents in his boyhood. He was about twenty-one at the time of his father's death, of whose will he was executor and the trustee of the younger children. Made a will 29 November, 1732. Inventory £271, 13s. Abel Nicholson (brother-in-law), and Thomas Taylor, were appraisers. Widow Mary, son William Jr., and son-in-law Samuel Thompson, were executors. He bequeathed the home plantation, owned in 1860 by Thomas Vanmeter, to his son William Jr., and William was to pay to his sisters, Edith and Rebecca, £50 within four years. Left to James a two hundred and thirty-four acre farm bought of William Hall, owned in 1860 by Aaron Fogg. Left Samuel one hundred and fifty acres called "Smith Neck." Also to William and Samuel a tract of about one hundred acres. Left his widow, and daughters, Edith and Rebecca, all his personal estate, the widow to have use of one-half of the house and to keep a horse and cow during her life. He had a brick house built before 1730 and located in Alloways township, to which additions were made later. It was owned in 1856 by William Robinson. The Bible with children's births is still in existence.

Children:

20. William Tyler, born 2 May, 1712.
21. Edith Tyler, born 24 August, 1714.
22. Rebecca Tyler, born 29 March, 1716; died young unmarried; only mentioned in her father's will, when she was sixteen years old.

23. Mary Tyler, born 16 January, 1718; died young unmarried, before her father.
24. James Tyler, born 30 December, 1720.
25. Samuel Tyler, born 26 October, 1723.

5. John[2] Tyler (William[1]), born in Walton, Somersetshire, England, 2 May, 1682; married Hannah Wade, daughter of Samuel Wade, Jr., son of Samuel the immigrant (and his wife Jane Smith, daughter of Thomas), who settled on one hundred acres on Alloways Creek in 1680, and built a one-story brick house in 1686, one of the first of the kind built in southern New Jersey. He had two immigrant brothers, Edward and Robert Wade. Samuel Wade, the younger, was born in Alloways Creek in 1685, married and lived on the paternal estate until he died in 1733, leaving four daughters, among them Hannah, who married John Tyler. The Wades were prominent Friends. John Tyler inherited from his father a large landed estate, situated in Lower Alloways Creek township, or what is now called Log Town, near Harmersville, being a part of Annie Salter's allotment. He was one of the executors named in his father's will.

Child:

26. Benjamin Tyler, born about 1720.

6. Johanna[2] Tyler (William[1]), born in Walton, England, 4 February, 1684; married Jonathan Waddington, son of William Waddington, a French Huguenot, who came to America about 1690, and bought one thousand acres of land from Edward Wade, which was in his family about one hundred and fifty years. He was an only son.

Children:

27. Jonathan Waddington married a grand-daughter of John and Mary (Chambless) Hancock, who died in 1760 leaving an infant son (Jonathan), who married and had six sons and numerous descendants.

28. Hannah Waddington, married Maurice Beesley; had five children.
29. Ann Waddington, married, 1750, John Baracliff.
30. Elizabeth Waddington, married, 1760, Edward Bradway, son of Jonathan Bradway; had four sons and two daughters.
31. Jane Waddington, married Bradway Keasbey, and had one daughter. She was his second wife.

8. Philip[2] Tyler (William[1]), born near Salem, N. J., 17 March, 1692; died in 1777, and was buried in an ancient burial-ground of the Friends (Brown's), on the north side of Monmouth River (Alloways Creek), near Hancock's Bridge. He was a tall, spare man. He speculated largely in land and other things, was unsuccessful and not in good circumstances at the time of his death. He married (1), Elizabeth Denn, daughter of John Maddox Denn, whose wife, Elizabeth Oakford, was the daughter of Charles and Mary Oakford. John Maddox Denn was the son of James and Elizabeth (Maddox) Denn, Elizabeth being the daughter of James Maddox, (son of Ralph and his wife (who was a widow), Elizabeth Durham; he came from London in 1678, and bought five hundred acres of William Hancock, on the south side of Alloways Creek. Philip Tyler married (2), ——— Moore. The children were all by the first marriage, and in 1847, two of Philip's descendants were living.

Children:

32. Enoch Tyler, died a minor, unmarried.
33. Elizabeth Tyler, married ——— Watson; three sons (Thomas, John and Tyler).
34. Rachel Tyler, died unmarried.
35. ———, a daughter, married Ephraim Sayre, born about 1720; son of James Sayre of Stow Creek, who was the son of Thomas, the emigrant, and his wife Elizabeth (Abbott) Sayre; he was the son of Jonas, of Swedish origin. It is uncertain when Thomas came to America, but he bought a large tract of land about 1716, near Maskell's Mill. They had a son (Ephraim), who left descendants.

THIRD GENERATION

20. William[3] Tyler (William[2]), born 2 May, 1712; died 1749, aged 37 years; married Elizabeth Thompson, of Allowaystown, N. J., born 1 August, 1716; daughter of Joseph Thompson, born in 1693, the son of William and Sarah Thompson (descended from Andrew and Isabella [Marshall] Thompson, who were early in New Jersey, whose parents were Thomas and Elizabeth Thompson of Yorkshire, England). Joseph bought property near Remster's Mill, where he built a brick house. William Tyler was one of the executors of his father's will. There are three receipts extant, dated 1739, 1745, and 1750, from his sister, Edith Thompson, showing receipt of her legacy. William lived on his grandfather's homestead; at his death it passed into the Scoggin family, and in 1850 was owned by William Robinson. His estate was inventoried June, 1749.

Children:

36. Sarah Ann Tyler.
37. Rebecca Tyler, born 18 February, 1743.
38. Mary Tyler.

21. Edith[3] Tyler (William[2]), born 24 August, 1714, married Samuel Thompson, born 6 September, 1707; son of William Thompson, of Allowaystown, N. J., son of Andrew Thompson, who came to America in 1677.

Children:

39. Samuel Thompson, a tanner and currier of Salem, had a family.

40. Aaron Thompson, married Mrs. Hannah (Fogg) Hancock, widow of William Hancock of Elsinborough; no children.
41. Sarah Thompson, married Josiah Kay, near Woodbury, Gloucester County.
42. Edith Thompson, married Jedediah Allen of Mannington; their eldest son (Samuel Tyler Allen) became an eminent merchant and shipper of Philadelphia; left a large fortune, and four daughters. His wife was Maria Wilkins.
43. Rebecca Thompson, married David Allen of Mannington; ten children (Samuel; Jedediah; Chamless; Mary, who married Jos. Bassett; Hannah, who married (1), Aaron Fogg, and (2), David Bradway; Rebecca, who married (1), Joshua Thompson, and (2), Benjamin Griscom; Ann, married Joseph Brown; and Beulah, Edith and David). David and Rebecca, twins, born March 21, 1772.

24. James[3] Tyler (William[2]), born 30 December, 1720; died aged 80 years; married Martha Simpson. He lived on Alloways Creek on land left him by his father, and was succeeded by his son James. He built a brick house about 1750, which was owned in 1856 by Richard McPherson.

Children:

44. James Tyler.
45. Ruth Tyler.

25. Samuel[3] Tyler (William[2]), born 26 October, 1723; died 26 November, 1778; married, 1751, Ann Mason, who died 23 February, 1777, daughter of John Mason, who was the son of John and Sarah (Smith) Mason. John the younger came from Gloucestershire, England in 1683, first to Philadelphia, and thence to Salem, N. J., where he bought five thousand acres of land, and in 1705 erected a flour mill. Samuel Tyler was ten years old when his father died, and at eighteen he apprenticed himself to Benjamin Acton, a tanner of Salem, the article of indenture dated October, 1741, in which it was specified that he was to serve four years. He sold his inheritance on Alloways Creek, and bought, in 1746, property in Upper Salem, called "Tyler Street." The deed (from Rebecca Edgill of Philadelphia), calls the brick house "new," and in 1856 it was owned by William Davidson. Samuel carried on a tanning business. His personal estate was inventoried at £1,500; he left an unsigned will which was never acted upon. His son William settled his estate.

CHILDREN:

46. William Tyler, born 11 March, 1752.
47. John Tyler, born 9 July, 1755; died 22 May, 1825, unmarried, leaving a good estate. He lived with his sister on Fourth street, near his tannery.
48. Mary Tyler, born 8 November, 1756; died aged a little over forty-eight years, unmarried; lived with her brother John.
49. Samuel Tyler, born 7 January, 1758.
50. Rebecca Tyler, born 5 June, 1764; died 21 December, 1843, unmarried; lived with her brother John. She had money left her, and built a house on Broadway, Salem, but moved to Gloucester County, and lived with her niece, Elizabeth Miller.

26. BENJAMIN[3] TYLER (John[2]), born about 1720; married (1), 1746, Naomi Denn, a sister of Philip Denn, of "Bacon's Neck," who died about 1757; married (2), 1759, Mary Adams. He was a weaver by trade; sold the paternal estate on Alloways Creek, and bought about six hundred acres near the upper end of Greenwich, Cumberland County, being a part of the Gibbon estate.

Children, by First Marriage:

51. Elizabeth Tyler, born 28 February, 1748; married John Dunham, and had a son (John), and a daughter (Elizabeth, who married Job Tyler, No. 96).
52. Rachel Tyler, born 1751; married John Potts, Jr., of Bacon's Neck.
53. John Tyler, born 1753.
54. Letitia Tyler, born 9 November, 1755.

Children, by Second Marriage:

55. Job Tyler, born 1760.
56. Lydia Tyler, born 1763; married David Reeves.
57. Hannah Tyler, born 1765; probably died young, unmarried.
58. Benjamin Tyler, born 30 October, 1771; died young; s. p.

FOURTH GENERATION

36. Sarah Ann[4] Tyler (William[3]), married Samuel Stewart (eldest son of John and Mary [Wade] Stewart, born in Scotland in 1709, of noble descent), of Alloways Creek, N. J. He bought "Cow Neck Farm" in Salem, N. J., the brick house on the property being built in 1692 by William Wilkinson. Samuel was often called to act in arbitration, and also as commissioner for dividing lands.

Children:

59. Joseph Stewart, married Rachel Bradway, daughter of William Bradway.
60. Mary Stewart, died unmarried.
61. Mark Stewart, married Elizabeth Denn; eight children.
62. Ann Stewart, married William Griscom; seven children.

37. Rebecca[4] Tyler (William[3]), born 18 February, 1743; died 28 July, 1806; married, 2 February, 1763, William

Abbott, of Elsinborough, N. J., born 4 April, 1737; died January, 1800; son of Samuel and Laura (Foster) Abbott. Samuel was the son of George, the immigrant, who came from England to Connecticut in 1690, thence to New Jersey in 1696, where he founded the Abbott family of New Jersey.

CHILDREN:

63. Samuel Abbott, born 27 November, 1763; had the old Elsinborough homestead.
64. George Abbott, born 27 September, 1765; had the Christiana Miller farm, in Mannington.
65. Josiah Abbott, born 23 September, 1768; had the Mark Miller plantation, in Mannington.

38. MARY[4] TYLER (William[3]), married Jacob Scoggin. They probably bought her two sisters' interest in the father's homestead, which was sold by the children to John Lindsey, after having been in the Tyler family four generations.

CHILDREN:

66. Tyler Scoggin, died young, unmarried.
67. Jonas Scoggin.
68. Mary Scoggin, married Joseph Piper; three children.
69. Phebe Scoggin.
70. Rebecca Scoggin, died unmarried.
71. Elizabeth Scoggin, married James Dennis; had four children (Mary, who married Jacob Ludlum, M. D., of Deerfield, N. J., who moved to Chicago, and had seven children; Jonathan, Naomi, and Rebecca Dennis).
72. John Scoggin.

44. JAMES[4] TYLER (James[3]), married Miss Acton. So far as known, James's sons left no descendants.

Children:

73. Catherine Tyler, married Captain William Walker, who went to Cincinnati, O., in 1818, thence to Indiana; was in the Mexican War, Post 70, as captain, and marched into Mexico, where he was killed at Buena Vista in 1847. They had several children who lived in the West; one son was a lawyer and one a doctor.
74. William Tyler.
75. Samuel Tyler.
76. John Tyler.

45. Ruth[4] Tyler (James[3]), married John Ware, who was born 16 July, 1751; son of John and Elizabeth (Fogg) Ware of Alloways Creek (who was the son of Joseph and Elizabeth [Walker] Ware, who was the son of Joseph and Martha [Groff] Ware; the latter came to America in 1675, as servant to Edward Wade. The Wares had five hundred acres. Ruth Tyler inherited one-third of father's estate, and bought the other two-thirds of her brother James's children.

Children:

77. Martha Ware, died young, while visiting her uncle David Ware, near Derby.
78. Eleanor Ware, married Jeremiah Tracy; no children. A short time before her death she conveyed real estate to her husband, who conveyed the last of seven hundred acres of Alloways Creek land, bought by William Tyler one hundred and seventy-five years before.

46. William[4] Tyler (Samuel[3]), born 11 March, 1752; died 8 October, 1823, leaving no will; married (1), 1792, Beulah Ridgeway, who died soon, s. p.; daughter of Job Ridgeway, of Mannington; married (2), 17 March, 1796, Catherine Low, of Philadelphia, Penn., born at Coppel Hall, Lancashire, England, 5 February, 1765; died 23 March, 1825; daughter of Hugh (son of John) and Catherine (Young) Low. She came to America with her parents when quite young; they were Quakers, her father being a ship and mast builder. William Tyler was a tanner and farmer, of medium height and stout; a man of few words and of a retiring disposition. By law he had all his father's landed property, but he divided it up. He lived at the old homestead.

Children, by Second Marriage:

79. John Mason Tyler, born 28 May, 1797.
80. Hannah Gillespey Tyler, born 30 August, 1798.
81. Hugh Low Tyler, born 20 March, 1800.
82. Mary A. Tyler, born 21 November, 1801; died unmarried in Philadelphia. She published a volume of poems.
83. Annie Tyler, born 1 March, 1805; died 5 August, 1805.
84. William Tyler, born 16 September, 1806.

49. Samuel[4] Tyler (Samuel[3]), born 7 January, 1758; died 23 October, 1815; married, 1796, Mrs. Grace (Ambler) Acton; daughter of Peter Ambler, of Mannington. Samuel resided in Salem, N. J., where the children were born.

Children:

85. Ann Tyler.
86. Elizabeth Tyler, born 23 March, 1800.

53. John[4] Tyler (Benjamin[3]), born 1753; died in Greenwich, N. J., on his farm; married (1), about 1776, Abigail Lippincott, probably daughter of Samuel and Abigail (Bates) Lippincott (daughter of Joseph Bates), and granddaughter of Freedom Lippincott (born January, 1650, at Stone House, England), and his wife, Mary Custin, of Burlington, N. J.; Freedom was the son of Richard Lippincott, born in Plymouth, England, and came to Dorchester, Mass., 1636 to 1640, returning to England, 1644 to 1650; joined the Quakers, and on 20 January, 1660, was committed to prison at Plymouth, by the mayor, being taken out of the meeting-house. In 1663, came over to Rhode Island, and in 1669, came to Shrewsbury, N. J., where he was a landed proprietor, and died 25 September, 1683. He bought a thousand acres before his death, of John Fenwick, on Shrewsbury Neck. His widow, who died in 1697, liberated all her slaves before her death. He had six sons. The name Lippincott comes from a manor and parish in West Devonshire, England, "Luffencott," which was in the family during the Middle Ages. John Tyler married (2), Nancy Hall, who soon died s. p.; married (3), Hope Sharp. He inherited his father's farm, in Greenwich, where his children were born.

Children, by First Marriage:

87. Samuel Tyler, born 1778.
88. Benjamin Tyler, born 1780.
89. Naomi Tyler, born 1782.

Child, by Third Marriage:

90. Hannah Y. Tyler, born about 1790; married Josiah Lippincott, and moved to Ohio, probably near Picqua. She married against her parents' wishes, and all trace of her was lost.

54. Letitia[4] Tyler (Benjamin[3]), born 9 November, 1755; married (1), Andrew Griscom, son of Andrew, who lived near Tuckahoe, on lands bought by his grandfather; grandson of Tobias and Deborah (Gabitas) Griscom, of Camden, and great-grandson of Andrew and Sarah (Dale) from England in 1680, who bought a large tract of land in South Camden, N. J.; married (2) James English.

Children, by First Marriage:

91. Benjamin Griscom, married (1), Susan Allen, of Penn's Neck; married (2), 1811, Rebecca Thompson, of Elsinborough, widow of Joshua Thompson.

92. Andrew Griscom, married (1), Esther Baker; married (2), Sarah ———.

Children, by Second Marriage:

93. Martha English, married Benjamin Harris.
94. Tyler English.

55. Job[4] Tyler (Benjamin[3]), born in 1760; married Rachel Sayres (or Sayre), daughter of Ananias (son of Jonas, of Swedish origin) and Mary (Gibbon) Sayres (or Sayre), living near Roadstown, on place inherited from her father, Richard Gibbon. Job Tyler sold the farm left him by his father and bought John Sterling's farm in Mannington, which he sold, and bought Lucas Gibbs' large farm in Quaker's Neck. He was a man of great energy, had one of the best farms in the county, and raised the fattest bullock Philadelphia ever saw in his day. The directors of the Salem Bank used the imprint of the "Tyler Ox" on their dollar bills for many years.

Children:

95. Benjamin Tyler.
96. Job Tyler, Jr., married his cousin Elizabeth Dunham (under No. 51), who died s. p. He inherited his father's farm in Quaker's Neck, sold it to Andrew Griscom and moved to Salem; he willed the most of his estate, (money), to his brother Benjamin's grandchildren (Rachel and James Tyler), Nos. 208 and 209.
97. Mary Tyler, married John Bacon, son of Job Bacon of Greenwich, who died s. p. He lived but a short time.
98. Richard Tyler, died 1819 unmarried. He was a very promising young man.

79. John Mason[5] Tyler (William[4]), born 28 May, 1797; died July 31, 1880, from exposure at the burning of his tannery; married, 7 October, 1832, Dorothea Graham Hoskins, of Rador, Penn., who died in 1879; daughter of Joseph Hoskins, born in New Jersey, who went to Delaware County, Penn., where he married Mary Graham, who was descended from an old Chester, Penn., family. John Mason Tyler introduced the first steam engine in Salem County, N. J.

He was an enterprising and intelligent citizen and had been deeply interested in the Old Salem Library, of which he was for many years the President. He died intestate but had requested his son to erect from designs prepared by himself upon his Broadway lot, a suitable library building.

This worthy project was faithfully carried out, and the present John M. Tyler Library Building was completed in 1885 and turned over to the Salem Library Company.

It is a worthy memorial to a loyal and enterprising native of that city whose ancestors settled and for five generations lived in Salem County bearing an honored name.

Children:

99. Catherine Low Tyler, born 12 August, 1833; died unmarried, in 1862, in Delaware County, Penn.; was educated in Burlington, N. J. Her home was at Salem, N. J., and there she was interred.
100. William Graham Tyler, born 18 March, 1838.

80. Hannah Gillespey[5] Tyler (William[4]), born 30 August, 1798; married, 16 December, 1818, Clement Smith, of Mannington, who died about 1821 (son of William and Sarah (Chamless) Smith, son of Thomas and Sarah (Bassett) Smith, and descended from Joseph, John and William Smith). Hannah was educated in a boarding school. After her husband's death, she lived with her father, then with her brother John, and finally settled in Philadelphia, where she died.

Child:

101. Clement William Smith, born 28 September, 1819; died 25 June, 1890, s. p.; married, 15 April, 1884, Sallie Levis Miller, who died in 1894; daughter of Levis and Ann (McIlvain) Miller. He was a merchant in Philadelphia.

81. Hugh Low[5] Tyler (William[4]), born in Salem County, N. J., 20 March, 1800; died 8 March, 1883; married, 16 December, 1835, Mary Shipley Miller, of Upper Providence Township, Delaware County, who died 24 November, 1881; daughter of George and Mary (Levis) Miller. He was with his brother John in the tannery in Salem; he was a fair scholar. After the death of his father he took the farm and tannery which fell to him on the division of the property; sold the farm which had been in the Tyler family for over one hundred years, and in 1852 removed to Delaware County, Penn., on his wife's farm, which came to her from her father, where he built a fine mansion. He was an active Whig, and later a Republican; he held various town offices, and was popular and prosperous. He belonged to the Society of Friends, and was a school director in Upper Providence Township in 1859. The children were born in Salem.

Children:

102. William Levis Tyler, born 12 August, 1836; died unmarried, 18 July, 1871.
103. George Miller Tyler, born 8 May, 1838.
104. John Edgar Tyler, born 5 October, 1842; died October, 1892, s. p.; married Anna M. Hicks of East Goshen, Chester County, Penn., who died June 10, 1888, s. p., daughter of Edward Hicks. They resided on the Miller homestead in Upper Providence.

84. William[5] Tyler (William[4]), born 16 September, 1806; died in Philadelphia, Penn., 21 December, 1887; married, 22

September, 1847, Ann Painter, born 27 July, 1818; daughter of Enos and Hannah (Minchell) Painter. Enos was a farmer and large land holder of Delaware County, Penn. William Tyler made a tour through the West, and in 1832 established a leather business in Philadelphia where his sister lived with him.

CHILDREN:

105. William Enos Tyler, born 16 June, 1848; died 10 March, 1873, unmarried.
106. John J. Tyler, born 26 April, 1851; married Laura Hoopes, born 19 February, 1859; daughter of Ellwood and Minerva Hoopes; resides in Germantown, Pa.

85. ANN[5] TYLER (Samuel[4]), born in Salem, N. J.; married Mark Smith, of Gloucester County, N. J.

CHILDREN:

107. Rebecca T. Smith, married William Davidson; had five children.
108. Beulah Smith, married William Dorman; had four children.
109. Samuel Tyler Smith, married ——— Thompson.
110. Sarah Ann Smith, died unmarried.
111. Elizabeth Smith, died in childhood.

86. ELIZABETH[5] TYLER (Samuel[4]), born in Salem, N. J., 23 March, 1800; died in Salem, March, 1889, at the home of her daughter Anna; married, 1 January, 1823, John B. Miller, of Paulsboro, Gloucester County. He was a popular man; was in the Legislature several times, and was County Judge. The children were born in Paulsboro.

CHILDREN:

112. Abigail Miller, born 5 June, 1824; married A. W. Hall of Paulsboro. She was married twice, and in 1898 was a widow.

113. Lydia A. Miller, born 7 December, 1828; married, 31 December, 1846, James M. Rose of Paulsboro.

114. Samuel Tyler Miller, born 21 November, 1826; married, 4 March, 1856, Fannie Price of Paulsboro, who died 26 October, 1879; has two children (John B., and Mary E., who married O. M. Keefer); resides in Paulsboro.

115. Emily Miller, born 19 February, 1831; married, 4 April, 1855, George H. Gaunt of Paulsboro.

116. John Mason Miller, born 31 January, 1834; died 23 September, 1849.

117. Anna S. Miller, born 29 September, 1836; married, 14 March, 1860; Zaccheus B. Sickler; has four children (John M., William B., Edward M., and Bessie Tyler, who married Joseph H. Thompson); resides in Salem.

118. Edward G. Miller, born 26 September, 1839; married (1), Anna D. Gill, who died six months later; married (2), Mary Paul. He is a lumber and coal dealer, has a hardware store, and is a farmer in Paulsboro.

119. Elizabeth Tyler Miller, born 18 March, 1842; married Daniel V. Summerill, a farmer of Pennsgrove, N. J.; has three children (Edward, Harry and Emma).

Charles Franklin Miller, born 18 September, 1845; married ———.

87. Samuel[5] Tyler (John[4]), born in Greenwich, N. J., in 1778; died there March, 1849; married, 1804, Rachel Peck, who was considered very handsome. He outlived his children except Samuel, Jr. All his children became Presbyterians.

Children:

120. Abigail Tyler, born 1805; died unmarried; was a schoolteacher, industrious and very lovable.

121. Benjamin Tyler, born 1807.

122. Martha Tyler, married Oliver H. Williams, of Pennsylvania, but died early; one child, which died young.
123. Samuel Tyler, Jr.
124. Clarissa Tyler; died unmarried.
125. Nancy Tyler, twin to Clarissa, died unmarried.
126. Rachel Tyler, married Awley B. Wood; one child (Henry Awley).
127. George Tyler.

88. Benjamin[5] Tyler (John[4]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1780, and died 14 May, 1862; married (1), 1805, Ann Tompson, born 5 mo., 8, 1787; daughter of Butler Tompson and his second wife, Hannah (Petty) Foster, widow of Jonathan Foster. Butler Tompson lived at Thompson's Bridge, now Allowaystown, Salem Co., N. J., and was a lineal descendant of Rev. William Tompson, pastor at Braintree, Mass., where he died, December 10, 1666, and of the well-known son of Rev. William Tompson, viz: Benjamin Tompson, born 14 July, 1642, and died 13 April, 1714; he was a Harvard graduate, and master of Boston Grammar School, Cotton Mather being one of his pupils. His grandson, Benjamin, went to Salem County, N. J., in 1732, and his will was proven at Salem, 5 April, 1763. It is not known when the letter "h" was first used in the name by the New Jersey family. Benjamin Tyler married (2), Hope Allen, who died s. p.; married (3), Mrs. Martha (Owens) Busby, who survived him, s. p. He resided in Greenwich, a successful farmer, and there his children were born.

Children, by First Marriage:

128. Hannah Ann Tyler, born October, 1806.
129. John Tyler, born 1808.
130. Mary Thompson Tyler, born 25 October, 1809.
131. Ebenezer Tyler, born 1811.
132. Lydia Tyler, born 1815.
133. Benjamin Lippincott Tyler, born 2 April, 1818.

89. Naomi[5] Tyler (John[4]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1783; married, 1804, George Bacon, of Greenwich, son of Job (born 1735) and Mary (Stewart) Bacon. Mary Stewart was the daughter of John Stewart, of Alloways Creek, and granddaughter of Judge John Stewart, of Bacon's Neck, and his wife Elizabeth Smith, daughter of John Smith (who was the son of William Smith), of Kent, England, and his wife Susannah Marcy, daughter of Edward Marcy. John Smith came to America in 1685, had a thousand acres in Upper Mannington, which was called Smithfield; he was an executor of Fenwick. George Bacon was a partner with his brother-in-law, Richard Wood, in the mercantile business, and was a man of financial influence in Greenwich, where he was living in 1848, dying of old age. The children were born in Greenwich.

Children:

134. Eliza Bacon, born 1805; died 1833; married Robert Withers, of New York City; two sons, one of whom, (Geo. B. Withers), resided in Albany, N. Y.
135. George Wade Bacon, born 1809; married, 1837, Prudence Beaver, of Illinois; three children.
136. Richard Wood Bacon, born February 2, 1811; died s. p. December, 1876; no issue; married (1), Rebecca J. Dixon, of Philadelphia, who died s. p.; married (2), Elizabeth Thomas, of Philadelphia, who died soon; married (3), Rebecca Elkinton, of Philadelphia.
137. Francis Bacon, born 1813; married 1845, Hannah Allen of Salem; he died August 24, 1870; three children: (1) Rebecca Bacon, born July 1, 1846, died November 25, 1860; (2) Samuel Allen Bacon, born April 6, 1848, died August 26, 1908; married Elizabeth Balderston, six children; William Francis, died an infant, July 24, 1876; Mary Wood, born July 5, 1877, died April 12, 1878; George Bacon, born August 15, 1879, married Lucy M. Leeds; three children: Elizabeth, George Richard and Howard Austin; Mark Balderson Bacon, born November 9, 1881, married Jane E. H. Haines; two children: Helen and Roland; Francis Rogers Bacon, born April 18, 1888; Grace Scattergood Bacon, born May 4, 1891; Alice Comfort Bacon, born January 1, 1866; drowned July 27, 1912. (3) Hannah Bacon, born April 5, 1850; died July 16, 1907; married Edward Horner; two children: Mary Bacon Horner, born February 1, 1884, Arthur Clinton Horner, born March 8, 1887. Most of this family reside at Haddonfield, N. J.

138. Mary Wood Bacon, born October 30, 1818; died at Greenwich on her father's homestead, unmarried, January 1, 1907.

95. Benjamin[5] Tyler (Job[4]), married Ruth Burden.

Child:

139. James Tyler.

SIXTH GENERATION

100. William Graham[6] Tyler (John Mason[5]), born in Salem, N. J., 18 March, 1838; was graduated from Haverford College in 1858; married, 25 June, 1868, Sarah Robinson Coombe, a second cousin, grand-daughter of Captain Thomas Robinson. The children were born in Salem.

Children:

140. Catherine L. Tyler, born 9 February, 1871; married, 17 May, 1898, George W. Mehaffey, who is a General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Boston.
141. Sallie C. Tyler, born in 1874; died in 1887.
142. William Graham Tyler, died in infancy.
143. Mary Graham Tyler, born 18 June, 1878.

William Tyler of Greinton, died March 9, 1635.

I. William Tyler, 1625(?)-1701

II. William Tyler, 1680-1733

III. Samuel Tyler, 1723-1778

IV. William Tyler, 1752-1823

V. John Mason Tyler, 1797-1881

VI. William Graham Tyler, 1838-

William Graham Tyler for many years continued his father's business in Salem and was interested in the Salem Gas Company and other industries.

In 1887, with his family, he removed to Philadelphia, Pa., where they now reside. After his father's death and complying with his request made in life, he erected the "John M. Tyler Library Building," which in 1885 was transferred to the Salem Library Company. This fine gift made a home for the long neglected and old library and secures its useful perpetuity.

Mr. Tyler is a thoughtful and philanthropic man, devoted to his family and friends, fond of books, solid literature, art and science. He has long been a trustee of the Vineland and Pennsylvania Training Schools, and Home of the Friendless and a member of the City Club, Prison Society and Academy of Natural Science.

He is also a vestryman of the Church of the Crucifixion.

103. George Miller[6] Tyler (Hugh Low[5]), born in Salem, N. J., 8 May, 1836; married, 5 June, 1867, Emma V. Weaver, born 14 May, 1838; daughter of Jacob and Caroline (Volkmar) Weaver (both from Germany), of Philadelphia. They resided in Upper Providence (Post Office Media, Penn.), where the children were born. He died May 14, 1908.

Children:

144. William Preston Tyler, born 14 April, 1868; married Sarah L. Evans, two sons, George Miller, born May 10, 1904, John W., born Oct. 23, 1906.

145. Frank Weaver Tyler, born 30 April, 1870; died Oct., 1898.

146. Mary Miller Tyler, twin to Frank Weaver.

147. Louellen Preston Tyler, born 18 December, 1879.

106. John J.[6] Tyler, the second son and only surviving child of William[5] and Ann Painter Tyler, was born April 26, 1851. He was educated in local schools but entered Cornell University upon its first opening. His paternal ancestors for three generations had followed the leather business in which his father was engaged over sixty years and whom he succeeded upon his death in 1887.

Mr. Tyler now owns some fifteen acres of land within the corporate limits of the city of Salem,—the only part of some two thousand acres taken up by William Tyler, the immigrant, about 1688, which still remains in this family.

On his mother's side, Mr. Tyler descends from the Painter and Minshall families, early Quaker settlers in Penn's colony. An uncle, Minshall Painter was celebrated as a botanist, local historian and scientist. Between 1820 and 1850 he planted a choice arboretum of six thousand specimens of evergreen and deciduous trees, now in a flourishing condition, upon the Painter homestead, still owned by Mr. Tyler and his mother.

Another uncle, Jacob Painter, was a linguist, poet, author of a new grammar and phonetic alphabet.

On a part of some eight hundred acres in Middletown, Delaware County, Pa., taken up by his ancestors and still owned by Mr. Tyler and his mother, four survivors of the Lenni Lenape Indians of the Delaware Tribe lived as late as 1804, allowed undisturbed by the owners to fish and to hunt. Several articles of their making are now in the possession of Mr. Tyler.

In 1881, he married Laura, daughter of Elwood and Minerva Hoopes, of Westown, Pa. Mr. Tyler is president or director of many industrial, mining, financial and railroad corporations, a member of the Union League Club and several scientific societies.

He is greatly interested in colonial antiques and family heirlooms, owning a hall clock in fine condition imported in 1682 by an ancestor, Griffith Owen, M. D., one of Penn's agents.

He and Mrs. Tyler reside in Germantown, Pa.

121. Rev. Benjamin[6] Tyler (Samuel[5]), born in 1807; married Mary Seeley, daughter of Richard Seeley, of Greenwich. He became a Presbyterian minister in Greenwich, N. J., where he was highly esteemed; was installed pastor of the Presbyterian church in Deerfield, N. J., 18 October, 1837; retired in 1842, because of ill health, to his father's farm in Greenwich.

Children:

148. (Rev.) Charles S. Tyler, preached in Glassboro, N. J.; resides in Ocean City, N. J., unmarried.
149. Joseph P. Tyler, in insane asylum, Trenton, N. J., married ———.
150. Benjamin Franklin Tyler, married, 1863, Elma Stathem, of Greenwich; resides s. p. in Bridgeton, N. J., an invalid.
151. Richard Tyler, died young.

123. Samuel[6] Tyler (Samuel[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J.; married Elizabeth Burden. The children were born in Greenwich.

Children:

152. Benjamin Tyler; had no issue in 1898.
153. Abigail Tyler, died unmarried.
154. Carlton Tyler, died unmarried.

127. George[6] Tyler (Samuel[5]), died early; married Emily More, of Deerfield, N. J.; daughter of John and Phebe (Moore) More, and grand-daughter of John and Rachel (Moore) More; the second John was son of Jacob and Abigail (Peck) More, who emigrated to America by 1710, and settled first on Long Island, thence to North Cohansey Precinct (now Cumberland County), N. J., and bought a large tract in the Wasse survey, on the north side and head of the stream "Beebe Run," which empties into "Stow Creek." Was set off from Salem to Hopewell Township (Cumberland County). In 1738 he built a large log house. Jacob More was a native of the north of Ireland. Emily More Tyler, survived her husband, and married (2), Charles Seeley, but had no children. George Tyler studied for the ministry, and was much esteemed.

CHILD:

155. John Moore Tyler, was killed in the Civil War, at the battle of Gaines's Mill, Va.; was with the third N. J. Volunteers.

128. HANNAH ANN[6] TYLER (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., in October, 1806; died 4 April, 1863; married (1), 1824, Josiah M. Harmer, a shipbuilder; married (2), November, 1855, Evi Smith. The children were born in Greenwich.

CHILDREN, BY FIRST MARRIAGE:

156. Mary Ann Harmer, born January 1, 1825; married, 1850, Jonathan Tyson, of Philadelphia; had a son (Josiah H.), who died s. p., at the age of forty-five. She now resides a widow in Philadelphia, Pa.
157. Benjamin Tyler Harmer, born 1826; died very young.
158. Lydia Tyler Harmer, born 1828; died 22 February, 1900; married, 10 March, 1852, William S. Lawrence, of Salem, N. J.; had a daughter Rebecca, who died 3 July, 1900; married, 1873, Henry Bassett, of Salem, and they had six children.
159. Hannah Ann Harmer, born 11 February, 1833 died 1885; married, 1860, William Scattergood; they had three children (Estelle, Barton and Lewis).
160. Josiah M. Harmer, died young.

161. Rebecca Bacon Harmer, born 21 April, 1841; married, 1 September, 1859, Dr. George Nicholson, of Salem, now of Camden, N. J.; their daughter (Alice), married David Taylor, and have three children: Rebecca, David and Mary, the latter now the wife of William Decou, one child, Alice Taylor Decou; their daughter Hannah married Elmer Bainbridge, two daughters, Rebecca and Elizabeth.

129. John[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1808; died there 1 February, 1898; married, about 1830, Beulah Ann Griscom, daughter of Benjamin Griscom of Salem, N. J. The children were born in Greenwich.

Children:

162. Anna Tyler, born 1831.
163. William Penn Tyler, born 1834; died 1836.
164. Benjamin Allen Tyler, born 1836; died June 6, 1892.
165. Rebecca Tyler, born 1838; married (1), 29 January, 1859, William Fogg; married (2), Amos Gardiner, of Mullica Hill, N. J., where she now resides a widow.
166. Mary Tyler, born October, 1841.
167. George G. Tyler, born 1843; died young.
168. Beulah Tyler, born 1844; died 1875; married Clement Acton; had one daughter (Lucy), born 1874.
169. Edith Tyler, born 1846 died 1856.
170. John Tyler, born 1848.
171. Lydia H. Tyler, born 1849; living unmarried in 1912 at Mullica Hill.
172. George W. Tyler, born 1852; married, 1877, Eliza Horner.

130. Mary Thompson[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., October 25, 1809; died at Salem, N. J.,

September 15, 1907, in her ninety-eighth year; married (1), 1825, Charles B. Harmer, of Greenwich; married (2), 1843, Andrew Thompson, of Mannington, N. J. (he married (1), 1818, Rebecca Abbott; (2), 1827, Ann Elkinton); this being his third marriage. He was the son of Joshua and Rebecca (Allen) Thompson, (daughter of David and Rebecca Thompson Allen of Mannington), and grandson of Andrew, born 1739, and Grace (Nicholson) Thompson, whose grandfather, Andrew, born 1676, was the son of Andrew and Isabella (Marshall) Thompson, (she the daughter of Humphrey Marshall). This Andrew Thompson born in Yorkshire, England, 1637, was appointed Justice of the Peace by John Fenwick, and also by the General Free Assembly at Burlington in 1683, and was the son of Thomas and Elizabeth Thompson, of Yorkshire, England, who removed near Dublin, Ireland, in 1658. John and Andrew Thompson came to America in 1677, settling near the mouth of Salem Creek, where Andrew built a fine house, which was called the "Emigrant House," and stood until after 1800. Mary Thompson Tyler was a widow, and the mother of two children before she was nineteen years of age. The children of the first marriage were born in Greenwich, and those of the second in Mannington Township, Salem County, N. J.

Children, by First Marriage:

173. Charles B. Harmer, born 1827; married, 1851, Emeline Scattergood; had five children. (He died 1907, September 21.)
174. ———, son, died an infant.

Children, by Second Marriage:

175. David Allen Thompson, born May 29, 1844.
176. Richard Thompson, born Feb. 6, 1846.
177. Anna Thompson, born Nov. 8, 1848.
178. Rebecca Thompson, born Aug. 24, 1849.

LINE OF MARY THOMPSON TYLER, 1809-1907

William Tyler of Greinton, Somerset, England, died March 9, 1635.

I. William Tyler, 1625(?)-1701
II. John Tyler, 1682-1733
III. Benjamin Tyler, 1720-
IV. John Tyler, 1753-
V. Benjamin Tyler, 1780-1862
VI. Mary Thompson Tyler, 1809-1907

Benjamin Tyler, born 1780, married 1805, Ann, born 1787, daughter of Butler Tompson, and his second wife, Hannah (Petty) Foster, widow of Jonathan Foster. Butler Tompson was a lineal descendant of Rev. William Tompson, pastor at Braintree, Mass., where he died December 10, 1666, and of his famous son, Benjamin Tompson, born 1642, died 1742, Master of Boston Grammar School, Cotton Mather being one of his pupils, a graduate of Harvard, poet, mathematician and physician.

It is not known when the New Jersey family first added "h" as the second letter.

Both Butler Tompson and his father Benjamin left wills which were proven in Salem County.

They lived at Thompson's Bridge, now Allowaystown.

Butler Thompson married (1) Freelove Whitacar and (2) Hannah Petty Foster, widow of Jonathan Foster, each wife leaving a daughter.

Mary, born 1775, died 1863.

Ann, born 1787, married, 1805, Benjamin Tyler (1780-1862), and was the mother of his six children. She died 1818.

Mary Thompson Tyler married (1) Charles B. Harmer of Greenwich, N. J., February 8, 1826, and (2) Andrew Thompson, of Salem, N. J., August 8, 1843.

She died in that city September 15, 1907.

131. Ebenezer[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1811; died, 1862; married, 1835, Sarah Stewart. He resided on the old Tyler homestead in Greenwich, where the children were born.

Children:

179. Beulah Tyler, born 1836; married Richard Dare, in 1858; had one son Frank born 1870.
180. Cornelia Tyler, born 1838; married James Woodruff of Bridgton, N. J.; had two children (Lucy and Clayton Elliott).
181. Isabel Tyler, born February, 1841; married 1859, Joseph L. Brooks; three children (Mary, Eva and J. Warren).
182. Sarah S. Tyler, born 1842; married Job M. Young, 1866; three children (Martha T., Beulah D., and Elma B.).
183. Martha Tyler, born 1844; married Enos Glaspey.
184. Mary Elizabeth Tyler, born 1846; married 1867, Charles Stratton; one child (Henrietta).
185. Harriet Tyler, born 1848, died unmarried, 1870.
186. Henrietta Stewart Tyler, born 1851; died, s. p., 1878; married 1894, Arthur Barclay of Pittsburg, Penn.
187. Ebenezer Tyler, born 1856; married 1873, Mary Shaw; four children (Harriet and Ephraim, twins, Margaret and Mary).
188. Emma Tyler, born 1858; married 1884, Frank Watson; two children (Herbert and Anna).
189. Charles Tyler, twin to Emma; died unmarried, 1880.
190. Anna Tyler, born 1861; married 1882, William Sutton; four children (Ralph, Cornelia, Leroy and Rena).

132. Lydia[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1815; died about 1892; married, 1836, Reuben Hilliard of Mannington, N. J.; son of Samuel Hilliard. The children were born in Mannington; Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard lived together fifty-five years.

CHILDREN:

191. Benjamin T. Hilliard, born 1837; died unmarried, 1856.

192. Samuel Hilliard, born 1839; died 1895; married 1858, Anna Sharp of Millville, N. J.; their son, John Sharp, born 1872; he married Elsie Dixie; issue, one son, Dixie Hilliard; John Sharp Hilliard, an inventor, residence New York City.

193. Margaret Busby Hilliard, born 1841; married 1862, Edward Mortimer Mulford, born 1840; residence, Bridgeton, N. J. Five children, viz:

(a) Anna Viola, born May 14, 1863; married May 30, 1894, William Howard Caly; residence, Riverton, N. J.; no children.

(b) Edward Mortimer Mulford, Jr., born January 7, 1865; married January 9, 1890, Sybilla A. de Luer; four children, viz:

Marjorie Sybil, born October 6, 1890.
Edward Mortimer, 3rd, born July 12, 1897.
Hilliard Nelson, born May 7, 1899.
Frances Marion, born May 21, 1904.

Edward Mortimer Mulford, Jr., is an official of Western Union Telegraph Co.; residence, Brooklyn, N. Y.

(c) Mary Lydia Mulford, born April 13, 1869; married March 26, 1891, J. Rulon Dare, M. D.; two children, viz:

Charles Rulon Dare, born April 28, 1894.
Mark Donald Dare, born June 29, 1897.

Dr. Dare is a surgeon for the Penn. Railroad Co., residing at Cresson, Pa.

(d) Elizabeth, born June 2, 1871; married November 16, 1899, Aehert T. Leonard; two children:

Dorothy Mae, born 1904; died 1907.

Clare Mortimer, born 1909.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard reside at Brooklyn, N. Y.

(e) Clare Hilliard Mulford, born January 20, 1879; married January 1, 1901, Bertha Lichte of Chicago; one child, Kathryn Margarette, born November 8, 1904.

Mr. Clare H. Mulford is an employee of the Western Union Tel. Co., and resides at Newark, N. J.

194. Job Tyler Hilliard, born April 20, 1845; married November 13, 1866, Kate M. Elwell; three children:

Kate M. Hilliard, born August 14, 1867.

Lillie S. Hilliard, born March 10, 1872.

Samuel S. Hilliard, born July 22, 1878.

They reside at Bridgeton, N. J.

195. Kesiah Hilliard, born 1850; died 1870.

196. Hannah Ann Hilliard, died an infant.

133. Benjamin Lippincott[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), born in Greenwich, N. J., April 2, 1818; died in Camden, N. J., 21 July, 1885; married, 2 May, 1844, Alice Ann Woolman of Woodstown, N. J., who died 28 September, 1890, in her 77th year. She was a descendant of the distinguished Friend, John Woolman. Benjamin was a farmer in Greenwich, in 1866 moved to Woodstown, N. J., and settled on a fine fruit farm. In 1884 he moved to Camden, N. J. The children were born in Greenwich, except the youngest.

Children:

197. William Busby Tyler, born 6 February, 1845.

198. Jane Woolman Tyler, born 26 October, 1846; died unmarried November 15, 1890.

199. George Ward Tyler, born 1 March, 1848.

200. Alice Ann Tyler, born 16 January, 1850, married John G. Borton.

201. Elizabeth Woolman Tyler, born 19 November, 1852; married June 6, 1907, D. John Rapp.

202. Benjamin Lee Tyler, born 28 April, 1854.

203. Chalkley Tyler, born 24 November, 1855; died unmarried in his mother's home in Woodstown, N. J., 30 June, 1887.

204. Mary Ann Tyler, born 24 April, 1857; married, 25 June, 1895, Elwood Dutton, of Twin Oaks, Penn., professor of biology in Friend's High School, Philadelphia. He died September 27, 1907.

205. John Woolman Tyler, born 20 March, 1860; died s. p. 1 July, 1890, in St. Louis, Mo., and buried in Woodstown; married, 1887, Mary O'Mara, of St. Louis; since deceased.

206. Lillian Tyler, born 15 November, 1862; died, 31 July, 1864.

207. Helena Woolman Tyler, born in Woodstown, 29 April, 1867; died unmarried, 24 February, 1893. She was an artist, and educated in Paris, France.

134. Eliza Bacon[6] (Naomi[5] Tyler), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1805; married Robert Withers of New York City; died 1833.

Children:

223. James Francis Withers, born 1827, killed in battle of Fort Fisher, 1865; married Anna ———; their children were: Eliza, Robert and James Withers, born in New York City.

224. George Bacon Withers, born 1829; married Eliza Jane Withers (1830-1881), his cousin; their children: George Bacon, born 1854; Francis, born 1856, died 1860; Ella, born 1861, died 1882; Jane, died

1864, an infant; James Francis, born 1866 and Robert Greer, born 1870, died 1871. George Bacon Withers was a silver plater and died at Albany, N. Y., in 1881.

George Bacon Withers, Jr., born 1854; married Katharine Burg (1866-1896); their son, George Bacon, born 1889, married Ruby Anna Nicholson, born 1890.

James Francis Withers, born 1866, married Charlotte E. Kelley, born 1862; their daughter, Jean Ross, born 1902.

This family now reside at Albany, N. Y.

139. James[6] Tyler (Benjamin[5]), married Miss Penton.

Children:

208. Rachel Tyler.

209. James Tyler, Jr., married a daughter of John Lambert; in 1869 was residing in Salem, N. J.; both are now dead.

SEVENTH GENERATION

161. Rebecca Bacon[7] Harmer (Hannah Ann[6] Tyler), born in Greenwich, N. J., April 21, 1841; married September 1, 1859, George Nicholson, D. D. S.; two children: Alice Nicholson, born Salem, N. J., July 26, 1860, married David L. Taylor, October 22, 1884.

Children:

Rebecca Nicholson, born July 31, 1885.

David L., born September 27, 1886.

Mary Elizabeth, born May 6, 1888, married William Decou, October 14, 1909; child, Alice Taylor Decou, born March 10, 1912.

Hannah Ann Nicholson, born Salem, N. J., April

19, 1863, married January 14, 1892, Elmer E. Bainbridge.

Children:

Rebecca Nicholson, born April 22, 1893.
Elizabeth Drake, born December 20, 1894.

162. Anna[7] Tyler (John[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1831; married, October, 1851, Chamless Hancock, of Salem, N. J., where the children were born.

Children:

210. Joseph Hancock, born 1853; died May 17, 1897; married Florence Lippincott; two sons, Howard B. and William C.
211. John T. Hancock, born 1855; married, 1892, ———; died at Salem, N. J., August 15, 1910; no children.

164. Benjamin Allen[7] Tyler (John[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1836; married, 1861, Millicent Busby, of Moorestown, N. J., who now lives in Salem, N. J. He died June 6, 1892. The children were born in Greenwich.

Children:

212. Hannah B. Tyler, born 1862; married John M. Reeves; they reside at Salem, N. J.
213. Benjamin Allen Tyler, M. D., born 1865; married, February, 1898, Margaret Hornby; one son, Benjamin A. They reside at Royersford, Pa.

166. Mary[7] Tyler (John[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., October, 1841; married (1), 1863, William Stokes; married (2), Thomas Hewes, of Salem, N. J. She is now a widow, living at Salem, N. J.

Child, by First Marriage:

214. Barclay Stokes; unmarried; lives at Atlantic City, N. J.

Child, by Second Marriage:

215. John Tyler Hewes, born 1889 married Martha Eldridge; two daughters: Dorothy and Elizabeth. He resides at Pleasantville, N. J.

170. John[7] Tyler (John[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1848; married (1), Mary Mulford; married (2), Lucy Haines. He is now living at Salem, N. J., and has been in the New Jersey Legislature. The children were born in Greenwich.

Child, by First Marriage:

216. William Fogg Tyler, born September 17, 1878; married Mary Haines, born November 23, 1910.

Child, by Second Marriage:

217. Robert Haines Tyler, born March 26, 1896.

172. George[7] Tyler (John[6]), born Greenwich, N. J., 1852; married, 1877, Eliza Horner.

Children:

218. Beulah A. Tyler, married ——— Wilson; now living in California.

219. Caleb Ridgway Tyler, a promising son, was killed about 1911, while employed by the General Electric Co., at Schenectady, N. Y.

181. Isabel[7] Tyler (Ebenezer[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., February, 1841; married, February, 1859, Joseph L. Brooks.

Children:

220. Mary Brooks, born 1860; married Samuel Lawrence, of Buffalo, N. Y.; one daughter.

221. Eva Brooks, born 1865; married Frank Janke; one daughter.

222. J. Warren Brooks, born 1869.

182. Sarah S.[7] Tyler (Ebenezer[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1842; married, 1866, Job M. Young. She is now a widow residing near Greenwich.

Children:

223. Beulah D. Young, married Clark Gardener of Mullica Hill, N. J.
224. Martha J. Young, married Samuel Young.
225. Elma Young, married Frank Wallace; one son.

197. William Busby[7] Tyler (Benjamin L.[6]), born at Greenwich, N. J., February 6, 1845; married April 16, 1868, Emma Hillyard Dudley, of Moorestown. Formerly a merchant in Camden, N. J., now living in Newark, N. J.

Children:

226. Alice Ann Tyler, born January 21, 1869; married February 6, 1890, Benjamin Franklin Ostler, of Pensaukin, N. J.; three children:
    Rebecca, born May 3, 1892.
    Chester William, born November 24, 1896.
    Howard Benjamin, born January 18, 1901.
227. Emma Dudley Tyler, born 1871; died 1872.
228. Abigail Woolman Tyler, born February 18, 1873; married February 6, 1890, Horace H. Brown; their daughter, Emma Tyler, born June 7, 1892, married February 22, 1912, Raymond J. Adams.
229. William Penn Tyler, born December 11, 1874 married, February 25, 1903, Flora M. Burk; their son, William Jules, born 13th of January, 1905.
230. Emma Dudley Tyler, born February 20, 1871; died July 12, 1872.
231. Benjamin Howard Tyler, born March 11, 1878; died April 14, 1878.

232. James Walker, born March 13, 1880; married, December 17, 1900, Laura D. Hates, of Camden; two children, Julia B., born April 18, 1907, Alberta L., born December 22, 1908.

233. Walter Dudley Tyler, born February 28, 1881; died January 25, 1882.

199. George Ward[7] Tyler (Benjamin L.[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 1 March, 1848; married, 19 May, 1869, Mary A. Horner, daughter of James Horner, of Woodstown, N. J. They resided in Camden, N. J. The second, third, fourth and fifth children were born in Mullica Hill, N. J.

Children:

234. George Horner Tyler, born December 19, 1872; married Josephine M. Grossman, June 17, 1898; three children.

Grossman Carl Tyler, born April 4, 1899.

Anna Adalade Tyler, born December 21, 1901.

Mariam Josephine Tyler, born April 23, 1905.

He is in business in Philadelphia, Pa.

235. Charles Horner Tyler, born June 5, 1874; married, July 8, 1894, Georgianna Thompson; five children.

Roland E., born May 10, 1895.

Alva R., born November 9, 1898; died July 29, 1899.

Harold R., born February 10, 1901.

Melvin P., born December 20, 1904.

Lillian E., born March 15, 1910.

He is a merchant residing in Camden, N. J.

236. Joseph Beck Tyler, born January 4, 1870; married, June 6, 1904, Josephine Collings; three children:

Douglas B. and Joseph C. Tyler, born February 27, 1910.

Mary Woolman Tyler, born June 10, 1911.

He is an attorney residing in Camden, N. J.

237. Elizabeth Coles Tyler, born October 13, 1877; married, January 10, 1900.

238. Howard Wilson Tyler, who died October 12, 1902.

239. Horace Woolman Tyler, born November 7, 1880; died September 14, 1881.

240. Edith W. Tyler, born October 18, 1889; married, November 20, 1912, Alonzo M. McNutt, an attorney of Camden, N. J.

241. Benjamin Harrison Tyler, born March 17, 1892.

200. Alice Ann[7] Tyler (Benjamin L.[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 16 January, 1850 married, 5 September, 1870, John Gill Borton, son of William and Hannah (Townsend) Borton. He settled on the Borton farm in the suburbs of Woodstown, N. J., where the children were born.

Children:

242. Linda Tyler Borton, died September 1, 1871.

243. John Gilbert Borton, born August 5, 1872; married February 10, 1897, Martha A. Hazelton; two children:

Gilbert E., born July 24, 1901.

Elsie Allen, born October 4, 1903.

244. Hannah Townsend Borton, born February 18, 1874; married Franklin S. Taylor, January 1, 1902. She died July 12, 1908, leaving two daughters:

Alice B., born February 15, 1903.

Frances, born June 30, 1907.

245. Lucy Lippincott Borton, born May 18, 1876; married, October 1, 1902, Robert Miller Fogg, of Salem, N. J.; two sons:

John Borton, born July 20, 1903.

David Tyler, born January 26, 1905.

246. Elsie Allen Borton, born February 13, 1884; died July 9, 1892.

202. Benjamin Lee[7] Tyler (Benjamin L.[6]), born in Greenwich, N. J., 28 April, 1854; died in Moorestown, N. J., 6 June, 1892; married, 16 February, 1876, Margaret E. Allen, of Woodstown, N. J. In 1898 she was living in Moorestown. He was a minister of the Society of Friends. The children were born in Woodstown, viz:

Children:

247. Joseph E. Tyler, born January 8, 1877; married June 26, 1901, Phebe M. Williams; two daughters: Dorothy and Viola.
248. Anna Tyler, born March 1, 1881; married, October 21, 1903, Collins Bassett Allen, of Salem, N. J.
249. William Busby Tyler, born December 26, 1885.

208. Rachel[7] Tyler (James[6]), married John H. Lambert. They are both deceased.

Children:

250. Harry Lambert, died September 3, 1902; married ——— Smith; one child (John).
251. Elizabeth Lambert, died 14 April, 1890; married William Carpenter; no issue.

173. Charles B.[7] Harmer (Mary[6] T. Tyler Harmer), was born at Greenwich, N. J., April 15, 1828; died Philadelphia, Pa., September 21, 1907, surviving his mother less than a week. He married Emeline, daughter of Jonathan Scattergood, of Salem, N. J. Their children were:

255. Mary T., born September 2, 1852; married, 1872, Benj. T. Walker; died June 11, 1893. She left two sons and three daughters, who reside in Baltimore, Md.
256-7. Charles B. and J. Barton Harmer, twins, born April 1, 1856; the former died unmarried April 11, 1881; the latter married Julia Horner, February, 1883; lives at Colorado Springs, Colo.

258. Susan S. Harmer, born July 12, 1861; married W. Harris Seltzer, July, 1887. They have three sons, George A. and W. Harris, Jr., born February 6, 1889, and Frank Harmer, born October 3, 1894, and reside in Philadelphia, Pa.

259. Lydia Tyler Harmer, born February 11, 1863; married, 1893, Boyd R. Cleaver, and reside in Colorado Springs, Colo.

175. David Allen[7] Thompson (Mary[6] Tyler Thompson), was born in Mannington Township, Salem County, N. J., May 29, 1844; married October 4, 1871, Margaret McNaughton, of Albany, N. Y.

She is a daughter of James McNaughton, M. D., and his wife, Caroline McIntyre. He was a native of Scotland, a graduate of the University of Edinburgh and settled in Albany, N. Y., in 1818. For over fifty years and until his death in 1874, he was a lecturer in the medical colleges at Fairfield and Albany and an active physician.

David A. Thompson entered Haverford College in 1864 but is a graduate of Princeton University, class of 1868 and of the Albany Law School.

He is a trustee of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company, The Albany Safe Deposit Company, The Albany Hospital, The Albany Orphan Asylum, The Home for Aged Men and The Home Savings Bank and President of the three last named corporations. Mr. Thompson is a member of the Albany County Bar and the University Club.

He resides at Albany, N. Y., since 1868.

Children:

260. James McNaughton Thompson, born Nov. 17, 1872; married Florence J. Jones, November 12, 1902. He was a graduate of Princeton University, class of 1894 and for some years curator of the college grounds and buildings. He died suddenly from dila-tation of the heart, December 26, 1908. Three children: Alice J., born October 21, 1904, James McNaughton, born August 3, 1907, and William Meredith, born March 15, 1908. His family reside at Albany.

261. Andrew Thompson, born August 13, 1877; married Mary B., daughter of Edward Easton, January 25, 1908; now residing at Buffalo, N. Y. He graduated from Princeton University, class of 1899 and is an officer of the Embossing Company and the Titanium Alloy Company. Three children:

David Allen, born November 21, 1908.
Margaret McN., born March 22, 1910.
Mary Easton, born November 17, 1911.

262. Margaret McN. Thompson, born September 1, 1881; married October 4, 1910, Charles Hancock Wood, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, class of 1891. He is a descendant of Ebenezer Hancock, only brother of Gov. John Hancock. They reside in Albany, N. Y., and he is an engineer on the New York Barge Canal.

One son, John Hancock Wood, born November 28, 1912.

176. Richard[7] Thompson (Mary[6] Tyler Thompson), was born in Mannington, Salem County, N. J., February 6, 1846; married October 6, 1870, Elizabeth W., daughter of Richard and Charlotte Acton Wistar. They reside at Salem, N. J.

Children:

263. Charlotte Wistar, born February 20, 1874; married George D. Mortimer, October 25, 1904.

264. David Allen, born July 19, 1876; married Sarah Coles, ———; two children, Charlotte Acton and Francis C. Thompson.

265. Mary Tyler, born April 20, 1879; married George Griscom. They reside at George School, Pa.

266. Cornelia Wistar, born March 17, 1884.

267. Caroline McIntyre, born October 16, 1888.

177. Anne[7] Thompson (Mary[6] Tyler Thompson), born in Mannington, November 8, 1847; married October 22, 1868, Louis M. Hall. He died 1911.

Children:

268. Clement Harwood Hall, born April 12, 1870; an employee of Guarantee Trust Co., in Philadelphia, Pa.

269. Frank Thompson Hall, born August 23, 1872; married November 8, 1902, Anna P. Hogate. They reside in Washington, D. C., where he holds a responsible position with the Penn. R. R. Co.

270. Walter Hall, born February 1, 1878; married October 19, 1909, Frances P. Carpenter. One daughter, Frances, born January 9, 1912. He is Treasurer of the Delaware & Chesapeake Canal Co., in Philadelphia, Pa. They reside at Salem, N. J.

178. Rebecca[7] Thompson (Mary[6] Tyler Thompson), born in Mannington, near Salem, N. J., August 24, 1849; married February 18, 1869, Clayton Wistar, son of Richard and Charlotte Acton Wistar. He is a lumber merchant and they reside at Salem, N. J.

Children:

271. Richard Wyatt Wistar, born February 7, 1870; married October 25, 1899, Mary Acton, daughter of Henry M. and Maria Bassett Rumsey.

He is a lumber merchant in Philadelphia, Pa., residing at Salem, N. J.

272. Arthur Thompson Wistar, born November 1, 1886. He resides in Philadelphia and is employed in his brother's firm, Wistar, Underhill & Co.

In Memoriam

Willard Irving Tyler Brigham was the second son of Gershom Nelson Brigham, M. D., and his wife, Laura Elvira Tyler. He was born at Montpelier, Vt., May 31, 1859, died s. p. in Auburn, Cal., Sept. 26, 1904; married March 22, 1893, M. Hazel Morse, who after his death, married her cousin, Edwin E. Nelson. Mr. Brigham was for a short time a student at the University of Michigan, but afterwards was admitted to the bar.

In early life he was an actor. In 1893 he removed to Chicago and there continued his profession at the bar where he attained a successful position, until his health failed in 1901.

In 1904 he went to Auburn, where he died. He was descended from many early New England immigrants.

He early became interested in the Tyler family, his mother being descended from the Job Tyler line, and was instrumental in forming the family association which first met at Andover, Mass., Sept. 2, 1896, subsequently at New Haven, Conn., Aug. 25, 1897, Boston, Mass., Sept. 7, 1898, Washington, D. C., Sept. 13, 1899, and Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12, 1900.

He traveled many miles and spent much money and time, including the summer of 1900 in England, in researches.

The Tyler family owe him a debt which can never be paid. The two large fine volumes, "The Descendants of Job Tyler of Andover, Mass., 1619-1700," and this modest one the "William Tyler Genealogy," both published this year, are memorials of his industry, unselfishness and devotion.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17, 1912.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
3 1197 21319 9828